

Zechariah

Just an ordinary day at the temple
Zechariah was going to pray.
It was his turn to light the incense
Just like he did everyday

Just an ordinary day at the temple
But what an amazing sight
There at the side of the altar
Was an angel shining bright!

Just an ordinary day at the temple
And then the angel said
'Don't be afraid, I have good news
Be full of joy instead

I'm here today at your temple
To tell you you'll have a son,
This baby boy, will bring such joy and you're going to call him John.

And he'll go out of the temple he'll talk to God's people and say
'Listen up everybody,
God's son is on his way!'

'But it's an ordinary day in the Temple'
Said Zach, 'this is absurd
I really don't believe it
In fact I'm lost for words!'

And after he left the temple for months Zach couldn't speak
He had to sign or write things down for weeks and weeks and weeks.

He worked every day in the temple
'Til their beautiful boy arrived
Then Zach and his wife Elizabeth
Were the happiest people alive.

Zach took his son to the temple
'What is his name?', they said
And Zach asked for pencil and paper
And he wrote down 'John' instead.

And suddenly there at the temple
He found his voice again.
'Praise God' he said 'for my baby boy
Amen I say Amen

For he will go out of the temple
he'll talk to God's people and say
'Listen up everybody,
God's son is on his way!'
